View from the Bridge

Welcome Fall!!!

It is hard to believe that we are beginning to see signs of fall all across Tyler Park. School buses are shepherding children back and forth to school, gardens are winding down, leaves are turning fall colors and our annual Jazz Festival in Tyler Park will again bring sweet and lively melodies into the air. The Jazz Festival is a free event and draws people from all over our community. Please patronize the businesses who sponsor this event and let them know that we appreciate their support.

Your Board of Directors has been busy with plans to initiate an exciting Neighborhood Survey for us. The survey will be designed to give residents input into setting goals for the future and we want all of you to participate in answering questions. We will be inquiring into what is good about Tyler Park Neighborhood and what things we can do to make our area even better. Volunteers will be coming door to door to get your responses and we promise the questionnaire will be short. I hope that each of you will take a few minutes of your time and let us know what you think.

The Tyler Park Master Plan Committee has been busy in meetings to survey the park for the potential of reworking the Edgeland Ave crossing as well as creating budgets for the completion of the pathway at the Tyler Park Drive entrance to the park. Your Board of Directors allocated funds for this study. Work on the bridge is proceeding with funds allocated by Councilman Owens.

Lastly, I would like to remind everyone to take a look at your sidewalks and alleyways to make sure they are free of debris and over grown weeds and are easily passable for walkers, bikers and for cars in the alleyways. As winter approaches we need these areas accessible for all of us as well as our emergency vehicles and let's all help a neighbor with leaf raking and clearing icy walkways if they are unable to do these chores on their own.

"Autumn is a second spring when every leaf is a flower."--Albert Camus

Garden Tour A Success In Spite of Threatening Skies

Our June 27th annual garden tour was not as well-attended as in previous years, due to very threatening clouds all morning. However, it never rained a drop, and around 87 people viewed seven fabulous gardens and stopped to enjoy music in several of them. People came from seven Jefferson County zip codes, Bullitt County, Indiana, and Florida.

Thank you to the gardeners who worked so hard to get their spaces looking superb. Thank you to twenty-eight volunteers from the neighborhood. Thank you to the musicians who gave us an extra dimension of pleasure. Special thanks to our sponsors who gave financial support and door prizes: ValuMarket, Limbwalker Tree Service, Bristol Bar & Grille, Yoga on Baxter, The Plant Kingdom, Schickli Designs, Homemade Ice Cream & Pie Kitchen, and Terry Redden, Semonin Realtors. Because of the financial support, we had a net profit of $1,053.

Next year's tour will be in June, so let Terry (454-5795) or Jeanette (451-8207) know if you would like to be on the tour, to volunteer, or to give us a suggested garden or a way to improve. We welcome your involvement! -- Terry Redden

MURPHY'S CAMERA

Who knew?

Oh, yes, we knew they sold cameras and accessories but did you know that they give classes for folks who purchase their cameras and the classes are free? Not only classes but they sponsor events in the community. Yes, that's correct. Their most exciting event, which is a first for Louisville, is something called Big Shot. It will take place at Churchill Downs, October 3, 2015. Here's the deal—the event takes place after dark. One very long exposure will produce one picture. The exposure will be lit only by flashlights and camera flashes. The picture can be purchased at Murphy's. It can be printed to order, i.e., a 4 X 6 print, a huge picture on canvas or anything in between. The event was started in 1987 by the Rochester Institute of Technology. It's been held all over the USA, but this time, as I said, it's in our own fair city. It's free and open to the public.

Murphy's also sponsors contests, the most recent of which was held for the Forecastle Fest. People take pictures at the event, forward them to Murphy's, and then the public votes for the winning entries. Winners for this year will be announced on Murphy's FaceBook page in the near future.

Additionally, workshops are held. September 10th, for example, Matt Hernandez, a Westcott Top Pro will hold a workshop at Murphy's from 6-9 pm. In early August, 2015, Murphy's held a Photo Lighting class where an expert demonstrated various professional techniques. See their website for additional information about these and other events: www.murphyscamera.com

Murphy's now has five locations: the one in our area at Bardstown Rd. and Eastern Pkwy., Shelbyville Rd. Plaza, another in the Paddock Shops, as well as a store in Lexington and a fifth in Clarksville, IN. The first store was originally downtown at 5th and Muhammed Ali. It was begun in 1957 by Ray Murphy. In 2000, the store was moved to its present location. Pat Murphy, Ray's son, is now the owner/president. Amy and Kevin, Pat's children, work in the stores. Amy reports they are Jack and Jill's, doing whatever is needed. Other family members include their mother, Becky, who is their bookkeeper. Last, but not least, Louise Freeman. She has been with Murphy's for over 30 years. Amy reports they couldn't do without her.

Murphy's has its own photo lab, so everything is printed "in house."

Amy tells me that one of the most popular cameras they sell is the Fuji Instax, which is similar to a Polaroid. Remember them? Take a picture, print the picture immediately. Who would believe, in this day and age, that these cameras would be so well liked? Frankly, not me.

Besides their web page, Murphy's is also on FaceBook: www.facebook.com/murphyscamera. You can also find them on Twitter and Instagram.

Carry on the good work, Murphy's. We're glad to have you in the Tyler Park neighborhood. -- Phyllis Costello

Planting Trees - Invest In The Future!

"We plant trees not for ourselves, but for future generations" – Caecilius

Consider planting a tree this fall. Properly planted, they decrease our carbon foot print, provide shade, increase property value and give us oxygen. A little planning can help your selected tree or shrub grow successfully.

- Test soil to check for good drainage, soil acidity and nutrients.
- Dig the hole twice the width of the rootball and no deeper than the plant was grown.
- Water deeply (soak) every 10 days or so if we do not get rain.
- Choose a size of rootball you can easily handle. Smaller plants tend to establish quicker.
- Cut all rope, tags, and burlap off of the tree before planting to avoid girdling.
- Do not fertilize for the first year.

After planting, water the tree thoroughly. Mulch can reduce temperature and water fluctuations, plus it provides a neat appearance. Apply mulch no deeper than 3 inches or so. Most trees do not need to be staked.

A woody plant may take several years to recover from a stressful planting, so take a moment and plan ahead – the value of an established tree is worth it!
