Sunday Afternoons in September

Jazz

in Tyler Park

View from the Bridge

Your Tyler Park Neighborhood Association has been quite busy the last few months!

As you may know, Mayor Fischer attended our May meeting in Tyler Park. He was gracious enough to spend about an hour speaking to us about current issues within Metro government as well as answering many questions from the residents that attended. It was a good meeting

The TPNA also hosted its seventh annual Tyler Park Garden Tour in June. It was the best on record! Many thanks go out to Jeanette Westbrook and Terri Redden for heading up the committee. Also, Doug and Liz Thrasher hosted a sumptuous English tea at their home on Rosewood. We appreciate all the residents that opened up their gardens for the tour and the many volunteers that helped.

Our third annual Tyler Park Jazz Festival will be held on four consecutive Sunday afternoons in September. These free neighborhood events will be from 4 – 6pm on September 9, 16, 23 and 30. Special thanks to our major sponsors this year : Metro Parks, Metro Council – Tom Owen, River City Bank, BC Plumbing, Highland Cleaners and Jamey Aebersold. We hope to see you there!

Tyler Park Garden Tour a Success!

This year's Tyler Park Garden Tour and English Tea had the best attendance and profit ever! Over one hundred and two people from 22 zip codes and 2 U.S. states attended the Garden Tour. This wonderful event featured an authentic English Tea in the lovely garden of Liz and Doug Thrasher which received extensive coverage by the Courier-Journal and extensive photo coverage through the "Neighborhood Clicks" archives of the Courier-Journal. The attendees of this year's tour also provided much feedback saying it was an activity that "brought us together" – just what we were hoping for! A community event that fosters communication, solidarity, shared interests, and knowledge.

The success of this fabulous community event was made possible by: the Tyler Park Neighborhood residents who welcomed us into their gardens, the efforts of 24 community volunteers, as well as our major sponsors: ValuMarket, Bristol Bar and Grille, Schickli Designs, The Plant Kingdom, Arts and Crafts Dental, Charlie Stoddard of Schwartz Insurance Group, Kizito Cookies, Yoga on Baxter, Nearly New Shop, Schreck's Baxter Liquors, Kelly Lee of Home Services Lending, and Terry Redden of Semonin Realtors. A heartfelt thank you to all of our sponsors, you make our community a better place to live!

The proceeds from the Garden Tour and English Tea totaled $1,770 due to good attendance, cooperative weather, and our generous sponsors and neighbors. All proceeds from the TPNA Garden Tour are dedicated to the replacement of the TPNA Banners that have been destroyed by recent years' weather related events. --Terry Redden and Jeanette Westbrook

TPNA Garden Tour 2013

Excitement is already in the air concerning the plans for the 2013 Tyler Park Garden Tour which will feature the lovely gardens in the upper TPNA neighborhood. We currently have three fabulous gardens committed and have new volunteers ready to assist TPNA. We are asking anyone in the Valley Road, Summit Ave., Royal Ave., Hill Road, Eastern Parkway and Hawthorne Hill areas that wish to participate in next year's garden tour to contact the TPNA Garden Tour Committee at: Westbrookj@aol.com or Terry Redden at redden@semonin.com for more information. Plans for the upper TPNA tour will include transportation to and from the gardens from Mid City Mall where the tour begins.

We are also looking for sponsors for the 2013 tour and request that area business and residents consider becoming sponsors for the 2013 tour. We welcome all and any suggestions to help make the 2013 tour as exciting as this year's has been. Look for further updates on the 2013 Garden Tour in upcoming newsletters. --Jeanette Westbrook

We Are Looking For TPNA History

A volunteer organization is completely filled with volunteers, and volunteers are not always completely organized. So... we have lost large portions of our history and we need your help finding it.

This is a call to the community at large to lend or donate documents or pictures to TPNA so we can build historical archives. Send an email to brtpna@iglou.com:

- ♦ Use Archive Donation as the email subject.
- ♦ Describe the materials you have, and whether you want to donate them or lend them to be copied.
- ♦ Tell us the best way to contact you to pick up the materials.

Our goal is to have at least one physical copy of every newsletter the association has printed, and a complete list of the officers who served in each year. We have a collection of recent newsletters and a partial list of officers, but are missing at least some of the officers for 1974-1983, 1995-1998, and 2004.

We are also interested in materials from other community organizations that served our neighborhood before 1974, such as the old Tyler Park Club, news clippings, photographs, and personal accounts of life and events in the area.

The long term plan is to gather what we can, take an inventory with summary information, and then pass the materials to an organization that can maintain the documents in a safe, professionally managed archive.--Ray Brundige, TPNA Board

Hypodermic Needles and How to Dispose of Them

I regularly walk with my children, ages six, four and two, in the Tyler Park neighborhood. While I've spoken with them many times about the dangers of crossing intersections, talking to strangers, picking up broken glass, etc., it never occurred to me that I needed to have a conversation about hypodermic needles. That all changed one night while walking to Tyler Park from our house.

We started out the on the same well-travelled route heading south on Baxter Avenue. I had my three children and several of their friends from our block. My six year old was riding on his scooter about half a block ahead of the other children when I saw him bend down and pick something up off the ground. He was holding something in his hand and playing with this object as if he had a rocket, making it zoom across the sky in a sweeping motion... I ran up to see what he had in his hand and my heart sank deep into my stomach as I saw that it was a hypodermic needle.

I instantly snatched it out of his hand and looked around for more on the ground before the other children could find them; I found another just a few feet away. I held both of the syringes, which had dried blood in them, in my hand and found the caps that were lying on the ground as well. At this point I wanted to throw them away but there wasn't a trash can nearby so I decided to recap them. In my haste I pricked my finger with one of the syringes.

The world stopped at this point as I tried to get my mind around what I had just done. How could I have been so stupid?! What was I thinking?! I took a minute to gather my composure then stopped all the kids and we had a quick lesson on what a hypodermic needle and syringe were and why they were not toys and how harmful they could be to their health. Luckily I have had many blood tests and am in the clear but I do want to share what I learned and may be known by most of you... Never pick up a hypodermic needle and syringe. If you see one call police dispatch, 574-7111, and wait until an officer brings a biohazard container and let the officer remove the needle. Hypodermic needles should never be thrown away as they can present health hazard to trash sanitation workers, or people who try to find aluminum recyclables in trash cans. And please have a discussion with your children about needles, find a picture online, let them know that they should never touch them under any circumstance.--Brian Elstner

New Benches and Pathway for Tyler Park

Councilman Tom Owen has provided $54,000 from the District 8 neighborhood development fund to be used to purchase new furnishings for Tyler Park, and to implement other improvements as recommended by the Park master plan. In response, Metro Park has two projects underway at Tyler Park. One of the projects, a Park Furnishings Plan, will provide 16 new benches and 6 trash receptacles for the park. The existing benches will be removed and new ones installed in locations recommended by the master plan. This project was due to be completed in May, but has been delayed because of a requirement to competitively bid the work. Although the benches and trash receptacles are only available from a single source, Metro Purchasing is attempting to respond to the concerns of the construction industry that all work be competitively bid. The bidding process requires substantial documentation, specification and staff time to undertake, but ensures the most fair and transparent business practices possible. The project plans and specifications are complete and are awaiting assignment at Metro Purchasing so they may be advertised for bid. If the bidding process occurs promptly, we expect the benches to be installed in October. We appreciate your patience!

The second project under study for Tyler Park is a new walkway for the northeastern corner of the park. The Northeastern Pathway will parallel Tyler Park Drive East and connect the Tyler Parkway and Baxter Ave. entries. It will be an accessible walk that will create a new walking loop within the park, as well as provide a safe route for pedestrians who now walk along Tyler Park Drive. There will be two bench sites graded into the uphill side of the path that will allow very nice southward views of the park. Metro Parks is working with the contractor, Riverside Paving, to ensure the path can reasonably be constructed with the funds in hand. We are hopeful we will also be able to move ahead with the pathway project this fall. The Tyler Park Master Plan may be viewed at the project webpage: <http://www.louisvilleky.gov/MetroParks/planninganddesign/projects/tylerparkplanning.htm>--Martha Berner

I Speak for the Trees

A Message from

Councilman Tom Owen

I wish I could make us all city-versions of Johnny Appleseed, the legendary tree planter. Indisputably, shade trees along our streets and in our yards make us cooler, give us fresher air, and produce savings on our energy bills. In addition, stately shade is key to the Highlands neighborhood brand, adding substantial resale value to our homes.

I believe we Highlanders are losing the battle to keep our neighborhoods leafy. Tree maintenance and replanting can be expensive and sadly some families have had to push that worthy work to the back burner during these hard economic times. Further, no one can overlook the successive natural devastations of the past couple of years: a dry tornado, near-hurricane force winds, crushing ice, and new diseases all have taken their toll on our leafy giants. The result is clear as I have pedaled through our neighborhoods this summer our yard and street tree canopy is visibly diminished.

One of the most frequent complaints that I receive relates to Metro Government's tree policy. If a property owner wants to cut a tree down in their yard, they must apply for a free permit that is activated only after a city arborist authorizes removal. While some residents flinch at the notion that the city should have a say about trees in their yard, they complain even more vociferously when I have to tell them that they must bear the cost of trimming and removal of trees planted in the grassy stretch between the curb and street! "That ought to be the city's responsibility," they complain. It gets even worse when I tell them that their friends who are fortunate enough to live on one of our city's "parkways" like Cherokee and Eastern are exempt from maintenance and planting costs—Metro Parks maintains that canopy without charge. Occasionally, if a dangerous tree threatens power lines, LG&E will remove a tree out at the street free of charge.

Despite the challenges, I'm here to convince you to maintain and plant trees. Trees are costly but they are also essential for building a happier, healthier, cooler and higher valued neighborhood. A newly planted tree is about the future—a gift from our generation to those who will come after us. C'mon, channel the Johnny Appleseed that resides in us all; if you can possibly swing it, get on with planting trees today.

Cleanup Activities in 2012

TPNA board members and area residents have put in quite a few person- hours working in Tyler Park this year, and we have a couple of dates coming up if you're interested in helping. We have taken part in the Spring Operation Brightside Community-Wide clean-up, aided primarily by the boot camp participants led by Susan Kwasny and InTensity Fitness. Many of her "campers" complete the early-morning exercises and then spend time cleaning up litter and debris around the park. In fact, they do this monthly as part of their pay-back for using the park. They are especially good friends of the park in that they also have reported suspicious and even illegal activities to the police while taking part in the boot camps. I have just learned that the Fall Operation Brightside clean-up is scheduled for October 27 from 9 to noon.

Gloves and bags are provided, and we usually have a dozen or so T-shirts to give away. The work is not strenuous and is a nice way to "give back" to the park.

We also have regular clean-ups coordinated by the Olmsted Parks Conservancy, focusing on invasive weed removal and on tree-planting. Over the past few years we have just about eliminated the bush honeysuckle plants that grew opposite the larger playground. We planted dozens of native trees on the hillside to help replace the cut vegetation and to help prevent erosion. Another benefit of weed removal is elimination of the "hiding places" that the thick vegetation provided. We have found evidence of drug use along the hill, and we hope that we have made such activity impossible or at least a lot less inviting. We also have removed such invasives as winter creeper and privet. Join us on November 10 for our next Olmsted-led clean-up, from 9 to noon. Tools and excellent instruction will be provided as usual. This is an excellent chance to find out just what invasive weeds look like and to see the native species (such as coralberry) that get crowded out by the invasives but somehow hang on in our park. This activity can be strenuous, but there are jobs for all participants to fit any age and energy level.

I have been participating in many Brightside and Olmsted clean-ups in Tyler Park over the past six or so years, but my wife and I have bought a home near Seneca Park and will be moving there shortly. Wouldn't you know we'd find healthy stands of bush honeysuckle on our new property! We have removed some already and will deal with the rest shortly. I will continue to help with clean-up activities in Tyler Park through 2012, and the effort is underway to find a coordinator to take my place. It has been my privilege to take part in and to coordinate these efforts, and I thank everyone who has given so selflessly to keep our park cleaner, safer, and more beautiful.--John French

TPNA Membership Update

Thanks to all who joined and renewed since the last newsletter was issued. At that time, we reported having 263 dues-paying members. Since that time, the TPNA board decided to delete from our list of dues-paying members those who had not paid since 2010. That resulted in the deletion of 29 members names (who still receive the newsletter but whose name is not printed on the label) bringing down our total of dues-paying members to 234. Added to that, 4 people have moved out of Tyler Park – leaving us with 230 dues-paying members. We have partially recouped the loss by the addition of 8 new members so we currently have 238 dues-paying members.

Our business members are: Arts & Craft Dental, Fairleigh Pet Center, The Back Door, Philip W. Barber, DMD, Kizito Inc., Highland Morning, Edenside Gallery (renewing this issue), Louisville Federation of Musicians, Boombozz Pizza & Taphouse, Barret Liquor, St. James Catholic Church, Sandy Metts / Mid-City Mall.

The new individual/family members were: Steve Thomas, Rosanne DiCioccio, Robert & Karen Zriny, James & Martha Crowley, Stacey Robinson, Christian Altman & Enrique Zuniga, Phil & Carol Held, Marcia & Bernis Woodward.

The renewing individual/family members were: Anne Schreiber, Brian Taylor, Jeanette & Andy Westbrook, Margie & Larry Mudd, Scott Beldon & Matt Rummele, John & Carrie Doyle, Tom & Phyllis Owen, Jennifer Adam & Jason Thompson, Melanie Chilton Exec Estate of William Ehlers, Mike Suttles & Margaret Lawrence, Norbert & Barbara Olges, Diana & Gunnar Hansen, Ron & Bonnie Lane, Tucker & Martha Thomas.

CHECK YOUR MAILING LABEL! Dues-paying members' labels have been retyped to appear on the newsletters as they appear on the application forms.
